The animal shall be deemed incapable of natural and effective service if it fails to make at least five ewes pregnant by the end of the guarantee period.

The warranty is dependant on the ram being used under natural breeding conditions. Natural breeding condition is considered to be when a ram is run with ewes, cycling without artificial interference. Ewes, which have been 'sponged' and/or treated with hormones to induce or synchronise ovulation, shall not, for the purpose of the warranty, be in 'normal' condition.
